Join the Race Against Waste and empower your students to think beyond the bin.

Impact waste before it is created!

The Race Against Waste program tackles the root causes of waste in NYC and helps students envision and enact ways to reduce and reuse materials that usually end up in our city’s landfills and waterways.

Teacher teams in the Race Against Waste Program

- Participate in four days of professional development
- Work with non-profits leading waste-reducing initiatives in NYC
- Receive resources and support to lead a service-learning project with students

This opportunity is open to teams of two teachers of middle or high school students.

Visit https://tinyurl.com/RAW1920 for more information and to apply. Email questions to ServiceinSchools@schools.nyc.gov.

Application deadline is Monday, November 4, 2019.